

Vacancy Trustee (Climate)

Volunteer role

Cornwall Pride CIO are seeking to appoint a Trustee to lead on awareness of climate issues. This ideal candidate will be an advocate for the Cornwall Pride values of support, awareness and celebration of marginalised communities. You do not need to have direct experience of working in the field of climate change or have prior experience of being a trustee. As a trustee of Cornwall Pride, you will join a dedicated, inclusive team and be offered training and development opportunities.

Responsibilities:

- Contribute to our climate action activism and associated issues
- Ensure the charity complies with guidelines and legislation
- Ensure the charity pursues defined goals in line with stated objectives
- Monitor the financial performance and ensure operations are within budget
- Ensure the resources of the charity are used effectively
- Maintain good reputation for the charity
- Scrutinise board papers and other communications as required
- Support the development of policies, goals and targets

Desirable:

- Knowledge and passion towards LGBTQ+ and marginalised communities' inclusion
- Lived experience of LGBTQ+ and marginalised communities' inclusion issues

Application process:

Please send your CV or video (max 3 min recording) or letter of application outlining your reasons for applying and how you fit the role profile for this post.

Send applications to: info@cornwallpride.org

Within the interview process we are interviewing based on skill set matching the role profile and being in line with the core values of the organisation.
